COAL DEADLOCK

PUBLIC OPINION HARDENING AGAINST MINERS.

GENERAL ELECTION FEARED.

EXTREMISTS INTENT ON ESTABLISHING A SOVIET.

LONDON, September 13.

While the coal deadlock continues, fresh developments may be expected during the week. The miners' executive meets in London to-morrow. The course of future events will be better understood by remembering that a number of the men's leaders are now in favour of dropping the demand for a reduction in the price of domestic coal, but Mr. Smillie is the chief obstacle, because after his retirement some time ago, when Labour declined to support his direct action policy for nationalisation, he only consented to return on a guarantee that a demand for a reduction in the price of coal should be made, and if the demand is now dropped Mr. Smillie goes. Consequently Mr. Smillie's fight involves his future leadership.

ELEVENTH HOUR DECISION

There is not the slightest doubt that public opinion is hardening against the miners and that moderate Labourites fear a general election on this issue, for while the extremists are intent on smashing the Parliamentary machine and setting up a Soviet system, the majority of Trade Unionists do not want to destroy the constitution. It is stated that there is no doubt that unless the miners abate their demands a strike is inevitable. Furthermore, it is feared that Messrs. Smillie and Hodges intend refusing to budge until the eleventh hour. The moderates, however, realise the dangers involved by such a course.

ELECTRICIANS' LOCKOUT

LONDON, September 13.

Twenty thousand electricians employed in the London traffic and electrical works will strike on Sept. 18 if the employers do not withdraw the lockout notices. Meanwhile the Government court of inquiry into the dispute which has been appointed opens to-day. The Chairman is Sir David Harrel.

ANOTHER STRIKE IMMINENT.

LONDON, September 13.

The Herald announces that the road and transport workers have decided to act with a view to enforcing the wages demand of 87s. per week. A strike of 150,000 workers is imminent.

MONROE DOCTRINE

RELATION TO THE LEAGUE COVENANT DISCUSSED.

MARION, OHIO, September 11.

Senator Harding, discussing the Monroe Doctrine, declared that the English and French texts regarding it in the Covenant of the League were apparently directly contradictory. The former indicated that the Doctrine would not be overridden by the provisions of the Covenant. The latter clearly made the Doctrine subordinate. He believed that in the case of a dispute the Council of the League would undoubtedly decide that French was the official text.

Senator Harding displayed wonder whether the whole thing was a trap. It was hard to believe that such a marked discrepancy was perpetrated without intention.

IRISH DISORDERS.

MODERN SERVICE RIFLES FOR CONSTABULARY.

LONDON, September 13.

It is reported that the Irish Constabulary is being re-armed with modern service rifles and revolvers and furnished with steel body-guards worn under the tunics. A large quantity of rifles and revolvers were landed at Belfast from a Government vessel. It is believed that the arms are intended for the use of the special police force in Ulster.

STARTLING HEALTH REVELATIONS.

FRAUDULENT EGG AND CUSTARD POWDERS.

LONDON, September 13.

The Report of the Ministry of Health contains startling revelations. It especially pillories egg and custard powders. Analysts declare that generally egg powder is coloured baking powder and custard powder is coloured flavoured starch without any trace of eggs.

FATHER TO THE THOUGHT!

BOLSHEVIK COMMUNIQUE AGAIN DISPOSE OF WRANGEL.

LONDON, September 12.

The Bolsheviks periodically dispose of General Wrangel in their communiques, the latest in this direction being to-day's communique which refers to the "almost total destruction of General Wrangel's force in War area." On the contrary, General Wrangel himself appears to be unaware that he is done with, for his latest communique reports heavy fighting in which an entire Red brigade was captured.

FRENCH FINANCES.

REVENUE RECEIPTS GREATLY EXCEED ESTIMATES.

PARIS, September 11.

An encouraging position is disclosed by the latest revenue returns. Indirect taxation and monopolies in August yielded $22,000,000 francs, representing an excess of 203,000,000 francs over the Budget Estimates. Since January, the excess of receipts over the Budget Estimates has amounted to 2,177,000,000 francs.

CAPTURED AGAIN.

MEXICO CITY, September 11.

It is announced that Johnson, the Britisher who escaped from the bandits, was recaptured by the bandits.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

(Rasier's Service to the China Mail.)

GENERAL ELECTION IN SIGHT.

LONDON, September 13th.

It is unquestionable that no Government throughout history has ever been called upon to face a succession of such acute problems as the present Coalition Government. The state of Ireland aggravated by Mr. MacSwiney's obdurate life-daily grows progressively unwholesome. The country is in the throes of a number of secondary strikes; some, like the electricians, are threatening to become of the first magnitude. Meopolemia is inflamed. The Polish-Russian question is rife with the grave European complications, although, momentarily, the onus are brighter. The Italian labour troubles are causing the gravest apprehensions, while, over and above all, Great Britain will be face to face in a fortnight's time, in the threatened miners' strike, with a direct challenge of revolution on Bolshevik lines by an internal blockade of coal supplies which will be the most fatal domestic emergency since the Civil Wars of the 17th Century, for, if the miners defeat the Government, Soviet tyranny would be established and the franchise become a supreme farce. The vote would be waste paper and majority rule abolished.

It is now clear that, after the failure of Thursday's conference, the next move must come from the miners, and there is grave danger that the miners' leaders, playing the game of bluff, may ultimately find, like the Kaiser in 1914, that the forces which they incited will carry them over the brink.

Well-informed circles are of opinion that in the event of a strike a General Election will be unavoidable of the result of which there can be little doubt. Such an appeal to the country will not be without its compensations. It is declared, as the 1915 Elections were abnormal, and the House of Commons to-day is not a true mirror of the electorate.

Meanwhile, last week's Labour Congress has been impressive but confused. On the one hand, the extremists have shown more clearly than ever that they desire to make it a counterpoise to Parliament by organising Trade Unionism as a State within a State but dominating the rest, but the more sober elements of the Congress which Mr. Thomas managed admirably were stronger than the debates suggested.

In various parts of the country, the miners have tendered strike notices, but a substantial percentage of the miners in South Wales has refrained from putting in notices.

The Sunday Times, in pointing out that arrangement exists by which Parliament can be summoned over the Polish affairs, urges the immediate summoning of Parliament for the Government, with whips off, to present its case and demonstrate to the miners their irreconcilable attitude.

In the course of the Food Ministry statement, cables earlier, Mr. McCurdy emphasised that, while hardship is inevitable if the mining strike comes, he is satisfied that, with the loyal co-operation of the community and the maintenance of civil order, arrangements which have been completed will ensure adequate but restricted supplies of food for the whole country.

ITALIAN OUTLOOK.

LONDON, September 13th.

A telegram from Milan says the moderate, have gained a complete victory over the extremists at a meeting between the general workers and Socialists, a large majority voting in favour of settling the metal workers' strike through Parliamentary action.

FRENCH LOAN.

NEW YORK, September 9th.

The new French Loan has been oversubscribed. The lists were closed within an hour.

M. KAMENEFF'S DEPARTURE.

LONDON, September 12th.

M. Kameneff, who has gone to Moscow, is conveying a number of Mr. Lloyd George's demands to clear up outstanding issues, as for example, the Bolsheviks' preferred ally to the Daily Herald is regarded as conflicting with the Soviet undertaking not to engage in propaganda in Great Britain.

It is noteworthy in this connection that many influential quarters regard the acceptance of the Ministry as illegal. It is reported that, before leaving, M. Kameneff got straight talking from Mr. Lloyd George, who emphasised that Russia had violated her pledges and had been busy in a definite Bolshevik propaganda, and it was he who eliminated the Bolsheviks' civil militia peace condition as regards Poland when presenting the terms to Great Britain.

It is stated that M. Kameneff will not be allowed to return. On the other hand, M. Krasin has faithfully observed his pledges, and is remaining.

RUSSIAN FOOD CRISIS.

LONDON, September 12th.

The Soviet's wireless appeal throughout Russia indicates a great food crisis, as it declares that the daily bread problem is the most important question of the day, owing to the lack of harvest and orders all workers' organisations to mobilise their forces for the purpose of obtaining food-stuffs from the rural districts.

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY.

BOGOTTA, September 12th.

A Harvard message says: "A number of well-known scientists met under the chairmanship of the French Professor Appleton and resolved on founding an international university."

PLAYING OR LOOKING ON.

WHICH IS THE BETTER FORM OF SPORT?

Edgard Rowan writing in a home paper, says:—

Walter Hagen, the golf champion of the United States, has just returned to his own land after a visit to this country, and I notice that in farewell interview he made these remarks:—

"One thing that has surprised me about your English golf is that the general interest in the game is not nearly as keen as I expected to find it." I agree with an excellent judge that it wants stirring up.

"I do not think there is anything like the enthusiasm for golf that we are experiencing in my country.

Everybody there is eager about it.

This you will find illustrated in the visit of Vardon and Ray to the States. The moment they land everybody will be rushing to book them up with engagements, and they can fill in every waking hour if they choose. Golfers will flock to see them."

I think most people in this country who notice what is going on around them will agree with me that Mr.

Hagen is sadly at fault in his conclusions.

THE GOLF BOOM.

The fact is that so far from our golf needing to be stirred up, it is so popular to-day that, with the present accommodation, there is very little room for any new players.

It would be difficult to take a census, but it is beyond all question that more people are playing golf in this country to-day than ever before, and in many circles it is the one interest in leisure hours. It has become as important to take golf sticks with you when you travel for business or pleasure as to pack your razor or your hairpins. In fact golf has become one of the two great crazes of the day.

But Mr. Hagen has revealed the fact, in the remarks I quoted above, that he judges enthusiasm for golf by the size of the crowds that gather to see it played.

There, I think, he is utterly wrong.

That is not the test of the real popularity of a game at all. People who watch games are not, for so long as they are looking on at any rate, playing those games for themselves.

It seems to me that golf—and any other game, for the matter of that—will have reached its highest and healthiest point of popularity when a match between Mr. Hagen and our best man will not attract a single spectator, because all the people who are interested in golf are themselves playing instead of looking on.

Indeed, Mr. Hagen's criticism that the people of this country are not enthusiastic about watching golf is actually the most flattering thing any American has said about us for a long time, for we happen to know if he does not, that most of us are too busy playing games to have time to watch others playing.

Indeed, I hold the opinion—due,

my plain-spoken friends tell me, to my own poor performances on court and course—that even to watch occasionally some crack players is destructive of the true spirit of your own game.

THE SNARE OF PROFICIENCY.

I have in mind a friend whose law tennis form was—though it may sound impossible—nearly as bad as my own. But he was what I should call the Happy Player. He rushed about the court, laughed whenever

GET-RICH-QUICK.

EXCHANGE RATES.

MILLIONAIRE IN A FEW MONTHS.

An amazing get-rich-quick scheme, whereby Mr. Charles Ponzi, a short time ago a relatively poor man, now estimates his wealth at more than $1,700,000, has attracted the attention of the public authorities at Boston.

A feature of the case is that the authorities are not at all certain that Mr. Ponzi's operations are in any way illegal and they have only interposed a halt until his accounts, which run into millions of dollars, can be audited.

Mr. Ponzi's business was the exchange of international reply coupons authorised under the International Postal Agreement as a medium for taking advantage of the differences in the rates of exchange current in foreign countries.

People of all walks of life have been flocking to his office for weeks and handing over their savings, upon which he promised to pay 50 per cent. interest within 90 days, but more often actually paid it in half that time.

With the deposits received from his customers Mr. Ponzi converted American dollars into Italian lire and other foreign currency. Then through agents in several countries abroad international reply coupons were purchased redeemable at normal instead of the prevailing rate of exchange. The coupons were transmitted from one European country to another, gathering profits through succeeding exchanges, in some cases as high as 400 per cent.

When the transaction was completed, usually within 45 days, the proceeds were reconverted into American dollars at the normal exchange rate.

The United States Attorney, Mr. Gallagher, commenting on the case, said: "The United States Government is the largest user of international reply coupons in the world, but the entire issue by the Government in the last 12 months is only a small fraction of the number which must have been handled by Mr. Ponzi to account for the tremendous income which he claims to have made since December."

In a statement Mr. Ponzi declares that his indebtedness is $600,000 at most, and that he has several millions of dollars, more than enough to meet it, on deposit in various banks in the United States and Europe.

BARBERIA FOLLOWS CAFETERIA.

Some of you may not know what a "cafeteria" is. It is a cafe with complications. No. That is wrong. It is a cafe with simplifications. Long ago in the land of the free, the home of freedom, a cry went up about the tyranny of waiters. Every American waiter was a self-willed little Kaiser, and there is something in the American make-up that dislikes kaisers. American ingenuity evolved, as a relief, the cafeteria, a cafe in which the customer is his own waiter. We had the pleasure of feeding several times in the first American cafeteria, which started in Los Angeles, Cal. It started about ten years ago. It was still going strong when we left about two years ago, and had scores, possibly hundreds, of imitators. You went down a corridor, railed off from the dining-room, to the kitchen, which had a long bar. You grabbed a tray, napkin, and the necessary cutlery from one end of the bar, and then you sauntered down the line, "chow," picking out what you wanted. At the far end your tray was checked, and you got a bill. You carried your loaded tray to an empty table in the dining-room, and got busy. It worked like a charm. It was really a trouble-battling with a rude or inattentive waiter. There was nobody to be annoyed. It was very popular. Here in Hongkong, where every restaurant patron must pay at least $3 a month to the table boy to secure reasonable attention (though even then he must not expect civility), there is probably a fortune awaiting the party who organizes a restaurant or cafeteria lines. However—why should we encourage anybody to make a fortune? We set out to mention the latest, which is the "barberia." It is a barbarous name, but apparently a good thing.

The American lives on the principle that no one is to blame for whiskers on a man except the man himself. If he persists in going round with a porcupine face, they reckon he does it out of spite, or because he is plumb crazy. But since the war, when the Cost of Living grew faster than whiskers, and barbers put up their prices to be in the fashion, men grew less censorious. America is a very tolerant place. They do not regard poverty as a crime as we do. Two many millionaires have taken their pitchers to the Wall Street well once, too often. It is understood that any man in America with $50 is a potential millionaire, and it is also understood that the best of people may be financially embarrassed. Consequently, when the barbers began charging fancy prices, beards became less of a rarity, and a bearded man could ride on a street car without being insulted. He could walk into town without being lynched. Even ladies would bow when he took off his hat to them. But all the same, deep in the heart of the nation lay the conviction, as sound as the Constitution itself, that beards and whiskers were Not Right. Consequently, an old-time barber of Los Angeles, the city of millionaires, conceived the idea of giving them a chance. Investigation satisfied him that his old customers were shaving themselves, and occasionally neglecting the job. So the idea struck him to open his shop to self-shavers, supplying them with all the necessary paraphernalia. He had always hot water that was hot, glasses that were not steamy, towels that were clean, and razors that were keen. In a month or two, such was his success, he had seven imitators. To-day in California we are told that a dozen towns have flourishing "barberias," and New York has just fallen into line. For five or ten cents (a nickel or a dime) you get all you need to clean your chin, "safety," or "ordinary," being at your choice. For a nickel extra, you get a private cubicle—for you may be a shy man, and unwilling to let the world see the grimaces you make as you scrape your face. At the same time and place, which is very convenient, you can have your hair cut and your nails trimmed. If you like, you may take your own gear there, get a receipt for it, and leave it there. For a little extra, you may have a locker, and so make sure that no one else uses your things. That's the "barberia," the latest, the newest, American stunt.

It is a wonderful country. Some day, when the Americans screw up enough courage to let their beards grow, and be hanged to you, they'll be a truly great people. But just now they continue shaving themselves—in the barberia.

SOLDIER'S RIGHTS.

During the war it was common to see Shaw's well known anatomy of the soldier held up to execration. Shaw showed that a soldier ceased to be a man and became an automaton, losing all his manly rights. During the war the soldier was a popular idol, a hero, a saint laying down his life for others, a martyr to principle.

The war is over. Mr. Justice Acton has decided that it would be inexpedient to have soldiers who have rights, and has issued a judgment of which we are heartily glad. It is an infamous example of the difference between law and justice, so you may wonder why we are glad of it. We are glad because it is an object lesson. We believe it is a good chance to be a turning point.

Frederick Leaman (enlisted in September 1914) for the duration of one year. He enlisted in the Army Service Corps, at six shillings a day. He drew at that rate for two years, and was then abruptly told that a mistake had been made, that he should be on ordinary infantry pay, 18s. 6d., and that he would have to refund £120 in deductions from his future pay.

You can imagine how well off he was on the reduced pay, while paying off that £120. The facts were not disputed. It was admitted that A. Leaman was six shillings a day. It was admitted that he was offered that, and accepted that, when enlisting. His claim is generally admitted to be just and fair and right. He said by "petition of right."

He lost his suit because this judge decided that a soldier has no rights. There is in the language of the law, no legal contract between the Government and an enlisted man. The soldier has legal obligations, but not the Government.

Very well. Let us see how long Englishmen will tolerate that. If there isn't an out-and-out soldiers' trade union within six months, as a result of Acton J.'s remarkable decision, you may remind us of it. Meanwhile, the effect on recruiting, either for regulars or volunteers, cannot be as good as the Government's expectations.

SEDITION?

Is it "seditious" to publish, in Hongkong, anything partisan about the present struggle between Kwongsi and Kwongtung? It seems that but for a technicality, the police witness not being able to swear that he read from the Chinese circulars found in his possession, a Wanchai pill-seller would have been severely punished. We could understand his being punished for various things, conduct liable to cause disturbance of the peace, etc., but not for "sedition." Sedition in Hongkong means seditious behaviour towards the King or the Governor, not towards foreign governments. If, however, we are wrong, and we may not take sides between the Chinese rival factions, without being seditious, let us call the attention of the authorities to the writings of Father Gramsci. Let us ask them what is the essential difference between the pill-seller's circular and the outspoken letter by "Bystander" in to-day's Morning Post? Both back a "rebel" general.

EWO.

Richard Oliver, in a contemporary, says that the original Jardine and the original Matheson "did more to open the oyster of Chinese trade for the British in the Far East than any other individual or combination of individuals." He writes, or at least is editorially captioned, as a historian. We think that history should tell all the truth, and not bits of it. It should give the full composite colour, not selected hues. Is it not historic that the Jardine Matheson prosperity was founded on opium? Do we want to brag of that?

The writer dwells on the present "influence and importance" of this firm. "It is more or less fully recognized, both by the Government and the general community, that its local 'tapan,' or 'number one,' is the most important commercial magnate. He is invariably nominated by the Governor of the Colony to a seat on the Legislative Council. He is a director, more or less by office, of a large number of the most important local companies. Why? Because of its present actual business, or because it happens to be the survivor of those who first opened the oyster, and grabbed the pearl so long ago? Nowadays we have a generation that cannot see why Jardine should have a ring in the Colony's nose. As to its present trade importance, they say, it is by no means the real leader. There are bigger firms. They point out that it is a sort of middleman, a "general manager" of other people's enterprises, and operating with those other people's money. Why should it be "nominated" as the backbone of British trade out here, when it is merely a rib? We think Richard Oliver must be hard put to it to find heroes to worship, if he expects us to admire Jardines, either for its origins, or for its present status. We think of it in view of this article in the Morning Post, as we think of the present Duke of Marlborough, handsomely rewarded yet for the deeds of that clever scoundrel John Churchill, circa 1700, the first "Blenheim pup." We think of the iron-headed old rat, William Jardine, working for his own interests in the eighteen-twenties, deserved as well of Hongkong as the first Duke deserved of the nation, and we think the "Princely House" is of no greater value to the Colony now than the modern generation of Churchills is to the State. Many in Hongkong think as we do; but few dare say so openly. We sometimes wondered why, until we were enlightened by a local business man. That is why we say—so far as local political "pull" is concerned—that Jardines Must Go.

LOGIC AND GENERAL.

Among the passengers on the s.s. "Andre Lebon" is M. Painleve the French ex-Minister of War who has been on a special mission to China.

The total output of the Kailan Mining Administration's mines for the week ending August 28, 1920, amounted to 94,153 tons, and the sales during the period, to 60,113 tons.

Mr. E. L. Agassiz this morning mentioned the Catchick Street murder case before Magistrate Orme, and asked that a date be fixed for its hearing. The Magistrate fixed Monday and Tuesday next.

A coolie aged 19 years, was yesterday removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital suffering from injuries to his thighs and arms caused through a fall from the first floor of the Kowloon Godowns while at work storing cargo. His condition is not serious.

"Can I stop a woman's slander?" asked a man of the Willesden magistrate recently. "You can not," was the emphatic reply. "In every age and every generation throughout the history of the world it has been tried, and no one has ever yet succeeded."

Among the industries in which prisoners are engaged in the F.M.S. jails are stone dressing, carpentering, carpet making, book binding, printing, weaving, tailoring, blacksmiths, tinmiths, cord work, rattan work and chick making. The total value of output for 1919 was $31,235.

The law is an ass. Mr. Justice Acton has ruled that a soldier cannot sue the Crown for his pay. A soldier enlisted in 1914, and his pay-book showed that his pay was 6s. a day. In 1916 he was told that he was entitled to only 1s. a day, and that he owed the Crown £120. But the Crown is some bald bureaucrat in some dingy back room. The world has been made safe for bureaucracy.

Mrs. Morrison, widow of the late Dr. G. E. Morrison, former adviser to the President of China, arrived at Yokohama on the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Japan" on her way to Peking. Mrs. Morrison spent a day in Tokyo, most of the day being passed in looking over the famous library her husband collected, now the property of Baron Iwasaki in Tokyo. To this library, the most famous collection of books on the Far East in existence, Baron Iwasaki has made several rare additions. Mrs. Morrison will spend three or four months in Peking, her former home.

On account of the increased consumption of coal in Japan, and also because of the limited supplies the Railway Department has decided to establish a big electricity generating station, for the purpose of substituting the present motive power used on railway engines by electricity. The expenditure for the enterprise is estimated at something like Yen 100,000,000. According to the authorities, the generating station will be erected in the Province of Shikoku, and the Shikoku river will be harnessed for securing the motive power. It is reported that a number of special experts will soon be sent by the Department to make the preliminary investigations.

RESTRICTION OF OUTPUT URGED.

[China Mail Special.]

SINGAPORE, Sept. 13.

It is announced that unless the output is restricted the rubber surplus in Britain in December will probably exceed 34,000 tons. The leaders of the industry recommend voluntarily restricting a quarter of the normal output of October and December, and thereafter a fifth until the situation is cleared.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was fixed for 4.15 p.m. to-day.

There's a jolly good leader in this morning's Morning Post, says "Adversarius."

There is still no prospect of the local Telephone Company getting the large consignment of desk telephones on order. The world's demand largely exceeds the supply.

A second message states that the thirst for knowledge is growing keener among the enlightened classes, especially students, in Chosen. They are imbibing all kinds of new fangled ideas, with avidity and taking to newly published books readily. In ten years' time the condition of living of the Koreans in the urban districts will be radically changed.

If you want a glimpse of Home, go to the Coronet. There you will see a good Gazette, and afterwards you will be taken Round the Town. You know! The little Village. Then you will be shown a great picture "A Roman's Last." It is truly a fine film. Those who have not seen it should do so to-night, as to-night is probably the last time it will be screened in Hongkong.

Over almost every spot in the world where there is room for immigrants the West has erected high signs "Japanese Not Wanted," and Japan's population goes on increasing by 600,000 or 700,000 a year while the Japanese people, puffed up by their success in the world, do nothing, says Mr. Tokutomi in one of a series of articles on "The World After the Great War." Two immediate issues lie before Japan, he writes in the Kokumin—one is to dispose of the annual increase of population, and the other is to discharge the duties of Japan as leader of the Orient and uplift the yellow races.

Passengers on the London Underground are intrigued by the appearance on the window frames of some of the carriages of a small, unostentatious red label, bearing in black print the alliterative admonition: "Hurry Home!" That is all. There is no indication of the origin of the mysterious message. Is it the beginning of a new social campaign, the maiden effort of some darkly imagined, semi-Funzi-foot, "Back to the Hearth" organization, seeking to undermine the privileges of the emancipated wife, or of that old-fashioned type of husband who spent his evenings in pre-war dalliance in the West End? Speculation is left, guessing.

That all Japanese wives are not docile creatures is proved by the story of Toranosuke Miki, of Osaka, and his wife. She had ever been a strong-minded woman and got the best of her husband in every argument until he was divorced her. Even then her spirit was not broken nor her courage daunted. One day she broke into the room where her former husband was living with his new wife. Greeting them both so that they could not give an alarm, she proceeded to administer a very severe drubbing to both. Then she left them in the room and went away, locking the door. They were not discovered until the following day, and were in a helpless condition when released.

An industry that goes back to Neolithic times has been discovered by the London Daily Express flourishing at Brandon in Suffolk, where a sharply defined group of inhabitants is devoted exclusively to the trade of flint-knapping, the shaping of flints. Though arrow heads, spears and axes are no longer made there is, remarkable enough, still a brisk demand for gun flints, and it is the satisfaction of this demand that maintains the ancient trade of the Brandonites. One would suppose that with the modern development of firearms the flintlock gun would be as obsolete as the Swiss crossbow, but it is still made in England for trade with African natives. The Brandonites also have not yet abandoned the flintlock.

A GOOD SUGGESTION: "BY Chamberlain's Tablets. When bilious or constipated. You are sure to be much pleased with them. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by all Chemists and Druggists."

THE OPIUM SENSATION.

$5,000 FINE IMPLICATED.

"BIGGEST SEIZURE IN THE EAST."

At the Magistracy yesterday afternoon, Magistrate Orme continued the hearing of the case in which the Chinese master of the Japanese motor schooner "Shenan Maru" was charged with having unlawfully allowed his vessel to be used for the importation of 18,068 taels of prepared non-Government opium. Defendant was further charged in conjunction with a member of his crew, with the unlawful possession of the opium.

Chief Preventive Officer Wildin prosecuted. Mr. F. C. Jenkin (instructed by Mr. E. J. Grist), appeared for the defence.

Mr. Wildin asked for leave to withdraw the charge of unlawful possession of the opium against both the defendants.

The Magistrate agreed and discharged the second defendant. He enquired from Mr. Jenkin if he had any extenuating circumstances to advance.

Counsel replied in the negative.

Mr. Wildin said that he could have proved that defendant had discharged the cargo of his schooner on the afternoon of the day on which he (Mr. Wildin) boarded the vessel. Mr. Wildin stated that he was convinced that the opium could not have been put on the schooner without the knowledge of defendant because the schooner was not a vessel which carried a chief officer or a naturalized Japanese subject and the Japanese flag not long ago. The opium was the biggest quantity ever seized in the East, though about six weeks ago, he (Mr. Wildin) had seized 12,000 taels of opium on another Japanese ship intended for the Colony.

Mr. Orme imposed a fine of $5,000, or six months' hard labour.

Mr. Jenkin applied for an order for the release of the schooner.

Mr. Wildin stated that there was no order for the detention of the schooner.

Mr. Jenkin asked his Worship to intimate that the schooner should be released.

Mr. Orme said that that was not necessary.

Mr. Wildin stated that he had no power to detain the schooner.

OTHER CASES.

A HARBOUR CHASE.

Two Chinese women and two men, all boat people, were this morning charged before Magistrate Orme, at the instance of Revenue Officer Clarke, with the unlawful possession on board their boat in the harbour, of 1,356 taels of prepared non-Government opium.

The first defendant said that she was the mistress of the boat. She was engaged by a man at Yuenai to take delivery of the opium, which was contained in gunny bags. When she undertook the job, she did not know the contents of the bags. She undertook all responsibility in the matter, and said that the other defendants, who were her fohis, had nothing to do with the matter.

Revenue Officer Clarke said that between 7.30 and 8 p.m., yesterday, the defendant's sampan was noticed under the stern of the s.s. "Haihong," which was lying alongside the Douglas wharf. Several bags were lowered into the boat from the ship. Several Revenue Officers hired a motor boat and pushed off towards the sampan. As soon as the defendants saw the motor boat approaching them, they made off. The Revenue Officers gave chase, caught the sampan and boarded it. On board they found the opium.

At this stage, Mr. A. H. Crew appeared in Court and informed the Magistrate that he had been retained for the defence. He had not had time to receive instructions, and would like a remand.

The Magistrate remanded the case until to-morrow morning.

AN OPIUM DIVAN.

Inspector Fox then charged a Chinese with (1) being the keeper of an opium divan in Kowloon City, and (2) unlawful possession of 6 taels of prepared non-Government opium.

The defendant admitted possession of the opium, but denied that he was the keeper of the divan.

Three other Chinese were charged with smoking opium on the premises at the time of the police raid.

The admitted smoking on the premises, but said that they smoked Government opium.

The informer gave evidence to the effect that he visited the defendant's divan on the night of the 12th. He tendered two marked ten-cent pieces which Inspector Fox had previously given to him, and asked for two pots of opium. The first defendant took the money and gave him the opium. The other defendants were smoking opium at time.

Inspector Fox said that when he and some fohis entered the premises, the last witness pointed out the first defendant to him as the keeper of the divan. Witness searched a desk which was the only other piece of furniture besides the beds, and in it found six taels of non-Government opium, and the marked ten-cent pieces.

The Magistrate convicted and fined the first defendant $50 or six weeks' hard labour. The others were fined $5 or ten days each.

MONETARY STANDARD.

UNFITNESS OF SILVER.

FLUCTUATIONS IN PRICE.

The unfitness of silver as a monetary standard has again been demonstrated by the recent unprecedented movements in the price of that metal, says an article on "The Silver Situation" in the August issue of Commerce Monthly, published by the National Bank of Commerce of New York. Within a year silver quotations have fluctuated more than 100 per cent. in the London market and 70 per cent in the New York market, the bank states.

In some countries, the article continues, the high price of silver led to the melting and sale of silver accumulated during the war and even to the melting and sale of coins still in circulation. Some countries in order to lessen the amount of silver in their subsidiary coinage or to substitute coins of base metal for silver. As a result of these developments, the demand for the metal for coinage purposes slackened, and to-day the dependence of the world on silver for coins is less widespread than it was.

The bank emphasizes as an important factor in the high price of silver the decline in production, particularly in Mexico, where, largely because of political disturbances, the output fell from 71,000,000 ounces in 1913 to 28,000,000 ounces in 1914, only to fluctuate between the latter figure and 63,000,000 ounces in 1914. There is no evidence, the bank says, that the mines in Mexico are becoming naturally less productive, and "there is every reason to believe that the Mexican output, once the political atmosphere has cleared, will be at least as large as before."

In discussing the probable future of silver, the bank says:

"The result of the purchase provisions of the Pittman Act and of the Mint regulations is to establish two separate and distinct markets and quotations for silver. In the United States, domestic commercial silver 999 fine is virtually pegged at 99¢. If the price for foreign silver should rise above $1.00 per ounce, Treasury purchases would automatically cease. But this price would probably not get much above $1.00. The annual output of the United States is about one-third that of the entire world, and a price materially above $1.00 would add this amount to market supply, increasing it possibly by one-half. It would therefore seem that the price could not rule only fractionally higher than the Pittman law figure, unless it is to be supposed that demand and supply should both be as abnormal as during the war period."

"It has frequently been asserted that a greater use of silver as standard on redemption money would be inevitable as a means of stabilizing inflated paper currencies, particularly in view of the decline of gold production. But it is apparent that if new silver is to be relied on for this purpose it will be many years before adequate reserves for existing issues can be accumulated. Unless the price of silver goes above $1.00 per fine ounce, or the purchase clause of the Pittman Act is repealed, the output of the United States will not for at least three years be available for these reserves. If silver is so used, either it must be adopted by some countries as the exclusive monetary standard, or a legal ration between the values of gold and silver must be settled upon. Either alternative involves the question of bimetalism."

"A return to bimetalism would in all probability mean a return to an alternating standard, now of gold, now of silver, such as the world sought relief from when it chose gold as the more stable monetary standard."

"The adoption of a single silver standard by some countries while other important commercial nations use gold would result in giving the foreign exchanges with the silver countries a fluctuating par of exchange such as China now has. The conduct of international business would thereby be interfered with rather than facilitated, and the proposal is therefore undesirable."

TEA HOUSE QUARREL.

STABBING AFFRAY.

ALLEGED ASSAILANTS ARRESTED.

A quarrel in a tea house in Queen's Road East, yesterday, resulted in a Chinese being removed to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from a stab wound in the arm alleged to have been inflicted in the course the fight.

Two men have been arrested by the police in connection with the matter. The patient's condition is not serious, and he would be discharged from the hospital in the course of the next few days, when his alleged assailants will be produced before a Magistrate on a charge of causing grievous bodily harm.

GREAT CHAMPAGNE CELLAR.

A FAMOUS FIRM.

SOLD FOR $5,000,000 FRANCES.

From Rheims comes the news that the property of the Mumm establishment, the sale of which has been the sole topic of discussion in the Champagne country for some days past, has been disposed of by auction for $5,000,000. (nominally $3,400,000), the reserve price, to Messrs. "Opting," who are described as a limited company of the Nord Department, and were the only bidders. The famous firm of Mumm consisted of the brothers Hermann and Walter Mumm and their mother, widow of Arnold Gottlieb von Mumm, of Frankfurt. At the outbreak of war Walter hastened to return to the Fatherland, and served in the German army. Hermann, who already pictured his compatriots as masters of the Champagne country, remained in Rheims. He was subsequently interned in a concentration camp for espionage. Hermann has since settled in Switzerland and Walter in Germany. The property of the firm, which was sequestered, and has now been sold, includes, in addition to 8,000,000 bottles of champagne and 45,000 litres in casks, various buildings and vineyards. The 8,000,000 bottles of champagne, reckoning them at 15¢ per bottle, are worth 120,000,000¢, and the purchasers are considered to have secured a great bargain.

IN A HURRICANE.

ANCHORED STEAMER.

SAFELY RIDES THE GALE.

Lively concern was felt in Shanghai on September 4 for the steamer "Scharnhorst" of the Messageries Maritimes, bound for Marseilles. It was known that the steamer probably was caught in the centre of the hurricane that accompanied the typhoon which swept up through the East China Sea.

It was found that this belief was well justified and a wireless from the vessel to the company's office reported that it was in the centre of the storm with engines stopped and sea anchors out, riding out the gale and was in no danger.

CHINESE HOSTILITIES.

MORE VICTORIES CLAIMED.

COMMANDER KILLED IN BATTLE.

Canton, Sept. 13.—The Military Governor, through his Chief of Staff, communicates the following:

According to reports from Waiyang, September 12, Colonel Wong Yip Hing of General Ma Chai's command, on September 10, led an attack on the enemy at Santuohok, severely defeating the rebels and compelling them all to surrender and lay down their arms. Commander Tang Hang was killed, and the whereabouts of Hsiung Shao-fan, another rebel commander, is unknown.

The enemy, under Tang Buan Yen, was defeated at Wangliu on September 9. Later Tang was able to reorganize his men for another offensive attack, but was again defeated by a regiment of the administrative force under Colonel Ho Choy Ka of Shen Hung Yung's division. Several hundred prisoners were taken, besides a large quantity of ammunition.

Colonel Wong Yat Koo, of Shen's division, led an attack on the enemy at Kunyunkok, on September 11, driving off the enemy and capturing men and ammunition.

Writing from Waichow, which is being guarded by gendarmes, the staff correspondent of the Canton Times reports that all the families of the Waichow officials have recently moved to Canton or Hongkong.

MURDER SEQUEL?

ALLEGED THREATS.

FOUR MEN CHARGED.

Four Chinese were this morning charged before Magistrate Orme with unlawfully threatening to do bodily harm to a joki of the Tung Shing Tai raitan shop, of Kowloon. If he worked on certain raitan furniture.

Inspector Spear, of Tsimshatsui, who prosecuted asked for a week's formal remand. "He explained that he would like time to make some enquiries about the case, as he was of the opinion that it arose out of a murder which took place in Kowloon on Saturday last."

Mr. A. E. Hall who appeared for the defence said that he had no objection to a formal remand, but he must ask for bail.

The Magistrate remanded the case for a week, fixing bail in the sum of $250 for each of the defendants.

AMERICAN MINERS.

WASHINGTON, September 11th.—In connection with the action of 100,000 anthracite miners in "taking vacation" as a protest against the award of the Anthracite Committee which was appointed as a result of a coal strike, President Wilson has notified the miners his refusal to recommend to the Coal Committee to reconsider the wage award.

President Wilson has declared that when a body of men, collectively, refrain from work by mutual understanding, it was a strike, no matter by what name called.

MEXICAN BANDITS.

New York, September 9th.—The War Department learns from Mexico City that Mr. Johnson, a British subject captured by bandits, has escaped, and is now proceeding to Guadalajara escorted by Government troops.

The American Gardner has also escaped, and has arrived at Toluca in order to go to Guadalajara.

The Mexican War Department states that the Government is purchasing 10,000 rifles from England and Germany, with which to equip the Mexican army which is being re-organized.

It is announced that a campaign will be begun against the outlaws, especially those preying on paymasters in the petroleum regions.

AMERICAN SHIPS AGROUND.

LONDON, September 10th.—Lloyd's agent says that the American steamer Stoney, of 2,200 tons, owned by the American Line, is aground in the harbour. The foremast is resting on rocks, and it is feared that it will be a total loss. The cargo is being landed.

LONDON, September 10th.—A wireless message states that the American cruiser Albatross, with Admiral House on board, is hard aground on rocks off Libau in a dangerous position.

An American dispatch is proceeding to assist.

FUTURE OF RHINELAND.

PARIS, September 10th.—After journeying through Lower Alsacia, where he was warmly greeted everywhere, M. Millerand has arrived at Strasbourg.

According to Le Matin, the League for the Independence of Alsacia, which sent M. Millerand an address of greeting, "as the head of the oldest republic in Europe," expressing the wish that his visit to the Rhineland may result in the amelioration of the political and economic situation in the Palatinate which has been neglected by Germany.

FRANCO-ITALIAN CONFERENCE.

PARIS, September 12th.—A Havas message says:—M. Millerand and Signor Giolitti have arrived at Aix-les-Bains, and were warmly welcomed by the population. The President held this morning a private conference at the conclusion of which M. Millerand stated that utmost cordiality prevailed.

Signor Giolitti has previously expressed the conviction that the coming conference would strengthen Franco-Italian amity.

Le Petit Parisien believes that the questions to come first in the discussion are reparations, war damages and the possible admittance of Germany into the coming conference at Geneva, but Le Temps hears that the British Government has received a French Note supporting the Belgian viewpoint against the contemplated conference at Geneva, and inclining to leave the International Reparations Committee the care of German offers.

TROUBLED IRELAND.

LONDON, September 12th.—Saturday night's bulletin says Mr. MacSwiney's condition is much worse. He suddenly collapsed, but is still conscious.

New York, September 11th.—Negroes expressed the Irish loughmen who deserted the White Star liners as a protest against the treatment of Archbishop Mannix and Mr. MacSwiney.

There was no disorder.

NEW RUBBER SUBSTITUTE.

LONDON, September 10th.—Rubber-growers will be interested in the statement of the Indian Rubber Journal that a company in Salome, Arizona, is turning out a ton of crude rubber daily from the cocolla, or candlewood, which grows well and very abundantly there. The product is said to vulcanise satisfactorily and set in every way like rubber. A ton of cocolla is reckoned to yield 250 lbs. of gum.

WHY WE WON THE WAR.

Field-Marshal Sir William Robertson unveiled a War memorial, at Danbury, Essex. The memorial, which contains the names of twenty-four officers and men, is of similar character to that designed by Sir Reginald Blomfield for erection in the military cemeteries in France. Speaking after the unveiling ceremony, Sir William Robertson said no sooner was the armistice signed than a certain class of people became busy telling us how it was we had won the war. It seemed to him a futile occupation, trying to ascribe victory to any one cause, but if we must have a cause why we won the war, he would say without hesitation it was won by the regimental officers and men, and more especially by those 700,000 who gave their lives in the war. He thought that fact should bring consolation to the relatives of those men left behind.

Four New Launches are under construction for the "WALLA WALLA" Fleet.

MR. G. L. SHAW.

REFUSED READING MATTER.

"HORRORS OF SOLITARY CONFINEMENT."

With regard to the arrest of Mr. Geo. L. Shaw, of Antung, while travelling by rail in Korea to meet his wife and children, the first charge being that he had committed a technical offence in leaving his passport at home, we learn that in a letter to his brother he says that he has been treated fairly well by the police so far as conditions of prison life in Korea admit, says the Japan Chronicle. It would be in consonance with Mr. Shaw's character to make no fuss about his treatment, and to regard his personal comfort with indifference in view of the graver public issues raised by an arrest for an alleged offence which the Japanese authorities admit was not committed in Japanese territory. Apart from the high character he bears among all those brought into contact with him, both socially and in business, the fact that he openly entered Japanese territory, as he has done on previous occasions, to meet his wife and children on their way from Yokohama, where his children are at school, is the best proof of the falsity of the "filibuster" charges made against him in the Japanese subsidised press and news agencies of Japan and China. While Mr. Shaw makes no complaint of his treatment by the police, the fact remains that he was bound and handcuffed when taken from the police station to the prison at Shinjitsu, and was treated in a similar manner, as if a dangerous convict, when taken from Shinjitsu to Seoul. While he has not been allowed any reading matter, on the excuse that the police must first examine all publications sent him, for fear, apparently, that they may contain "dangerous thoughts," thus he is deprived of all means of lightening the long hours of his imprisonment. Such treatment would drive some men mad. He is not even allowed to have his watch by which he could mark the slow passage of the hours. Perhaps it is feared that it is a bomb in disguise. His food, which can be sent him daily from the outside, cannot be heated in the prison, so that he lives on cold meats, due to the fact that in accordance with regulations meals must be sent in very early in the day. The cell in which he is at present confined is infested with vermin, as is the case with almost all Japanese prisons, especially those in Korea. As to the cold food and the condition of the prison, the one is the result of red tape and the other of the deplorable condition of most prisons in Korea, but the deprivation of books is deliberate and is part of the system employed in Japan to break down the spirit of an unconvicted prisoner and induce him to make admissions in the course of the secret examinations to which he is subjected. It is reported that this examination may last for weeks before there is any possibility of Mr. Shaw being released on bail. No doubt the attention of the British Consul-General in Seoul has been drawn to the matter, and it may be hoped that the Consul will insist on Mr. Shaw having books and papers to relieve the tedium of his imprisonment. Otherwise he is enduring the horrors of solitary confinement while still unconvicted.

SHANGHAI WAR MEMORIAL.

THE ESTIMATED COST.

MORE SPACIOUS SITE TO BE CONSTRUCTED.

Progress in connection with the Shanghai War Memorial has been somewhat delayed in consequence of difficulty in obtaining estimates from Home. In May the Committee selected the design, submitted by Messrs. Stewardson and Spence, and instructed the architects to prepare complete estimates for the granite and bronze work. The architects are still awaiting a reply to their Home inquiry as to the cost of the top stately group and flanking features in bronze—the most important item—the cost of which, pending cable advice, they estimate at £15,000.

This brings the total estimated cost of the memorial to £55,000, to which has now to be added about £5,000 for the necessary improvements to the site. Such improvement the architects considered indispensable to the success of the scheme, and their suggestions have received unanimous approval by the Committee.

SCIENCE IN THE NAVY.

SUPER BIG BERTHA.

EARL BEATTY'S ASSURANCE.

There is at present in Sheffield a gun which would outmatch the German Big Bertha, and the Lord Mayor of Sheffield, on the occasion of the freedom of the city being conferred on Earl Beatty.

In acknowledging the honour Admiral Beatty said: In our loathing of armaments and our vivid recollection of all the misery that was wrought in the last years we must not be lulled into the belief that if we live in peace we can leave our arms ungarrisoned, and at the mercy of any enemy that may arise. The Navy has been reduced to the lowest limits that prudence demands. There has been no new construction, but ships are subject not only to decay but to a virulent type of the disease of obsolescence. In the sphere of science and experimental work the Navy is better equipped to-day than it has ever been. (Cheers.) With our efforts extended in that direction we can afford to delay construction by assimilating and co-ordinating all the lessons of the war, so that when the time does come, such efforts and money as should be expended shall be expended in the wisest direction. (Cheers.)

Subsequently, at the University, Earl Beatty received the honorary degree of LL.D. In thanking the University for the honour conferred on him Admiral Beatty said: I wish in this great city there was some one who would establish a Chair in the University for the preaching of the gospel of sea power.

The students afterwards took possession of their visitor and hoisted him shoulder high in the chair in which Mr. Lloyd George underwent a similar experience. Later they held among themselves a mock Congregation, at which the most Excellent Order of the Grog was conferred on one of their fellows who was arrayed for the occasion in an admiral's uniform of wondrous cut.

A Daily Chronicle correspondent says that the length of the super "Big Bertha" being built at Vickers Sheffield works is 80 feet, and it can throw an 8-inch shell between 70 and 80 miles. In consequence of the extraordinary high velocity of the projectiles, the gun will need relining at frequent intervals. An earlier gun of this type was delivered to the Government after the signing of the Armistice.

A BOGUS PRINCE.

"HIGH LIFE" COUP.

FEMALE ACCOMPLICE.

A bogus Caucasian Prince, who further represented himself to be "John Maladoff, of Tiflis," and a military attaché in Italy, recently arrived at a fashionable hotel at Milan in company with a beautiful Moscowite woman, Katia Cosenko Wolkoff. She presented to the director a letter from her supposed father, a highly respected client of the hotel, requesting special attention to the young couple, as they were on their honeymoon, says the Daily Chronicle correspondent. Soon they were introduced to a party of distinguished ladies from Constantinople among whom was Kerime Selime Moushar, wife of the Turkish Minister at the Hague, and her pretty 18-year-old daughter Fatima. This acquaintance ripened into friendship, and dinners, picnics, and excursions to the Lake District became common. The woman "loved to" appear everywhere "resplendent" with costly jewels. The pseudo prince, having started operations by pocketing thousands of marks and francs on the pretext of being able to transmit them to relatives in Switzerland without incurring loss in the exchange, persuaded the woman to let him arrange a sale of gorgeous carpets, art objects, and personal jewellery on the score of confidential information about an impending big drop in prices. Fatima parted with a magnificent ring and pendant both set in platinum, and brilliant worth about £4,000; and the elderly members of the party handed over trinkets of about the same value. The Caucasian and his bride then vanished from Milan and the only information which the police have at present is that the woman, who, like her husband, is about 30 years of age, received her education at the College for Noble Young Ladies at Rome.

Maladoff, of Tiflis, is wanted at Constantinople for defrauding a local bank of £50,000.

DEATH AT HOME.

SIR EVELYN HILLIS.

WELL KNOWN STRAITS SOLICITOR.

The sudden death at Home on September 1 of Sir Evelyn (Campbell) Hillis, K.C., who was for many years an advocate and solicitor of the Straits Settlements, is recorded in the Singapore papers to hand. Sir Evelyn was born in London in 1865 and came out to the Straits as a partner in Messrs. Drew and Napier. In 1912-13 he acted as Attorney-General and on the eve of his retirement from the Straits H.E. Sir Arthur Young bore testimony to his great capacity for work and the great thoroughness with which he carried out all matters with which he had to deal. He was a prominent member of the Sporting Club, the S.C.C., a keen volunteer officer for a number of years, and was prominent in most branches of the public life of the Colony. He was recently married a second time, his first wife who was a Miss Craig having died in 1918.

CONVICTS ON STRIKE.

AMAZING INCIDENT.

ATTITUDE OF PASSIVE RESISTANCE.

An amazing incident is reported from Sing Sing, the great penal settlement of the United States, says a Central News wire from New York.

The majority of convicts there serve under what is known as the "honour" system.

Under it the prison is administered by the convicts themselves, who elect a "parliament," which has a "cabinet" responsible to it for the internal government of the prison. The "cabinet" has extensive powers of control within the prison.

The trouble arose over the selection of prisoners to be taken away on "drafts" to other prisons. Over that, the "cabinet" has no authority. Charges of favoritism were made against the prison warden in the matter of these selections and the entire "cabinet" resigned in a huff, while the convicts adopted an attitude of passive resistance.

No less authority than the President of the United States Prison Commission was sent to deal with the situation, and after prolonged negotiation, the cooler heads among the convicts, who were anxious to perpetuate the "honour system" gave way and the "cabinet" withdrew its resignation.

THE JONES ACT.

OPPOSITION IN AMERICA.

HOSTILITY TO SECTION TWENTY-EIGHT.

Opposition to the Jones Law in the United States is increasing. Section 28 is especially opposed, both on the Pacific and the Atlantic. The most vehement opposition comes from the Pacific. Senator Jones defended the section in answer to Pacific shippers and business men, whose opposition almost resembled a riot. Various commercial associations have also objected. The Port Commission of Seattle has presented a brief against the section. They fear that one result will be the diversion of Japanese tonnage to Vancouver or to Atlantic ports via Panama. The Evening Post, in an editorial says that Benson states that the Government will use Section 28 only as a means of compelling foreign nations to cease discriminations against American trade, but Senator Jones contradicts him, declaring that the Bill will drive foreign shipping out of American ports, and "I want to do that." Both state that foreign ships will be driven out only to the extent that American vessels are ready to take their places, but two can play at that game. Japan may make high port charges to American ships and other nations can do the same. An irritating commercial warfare may ensue. For the promotion of international good feeling and for commercial reasons American enterprise and energy must not be smothered by coddling as provided in the Jones Act. The suspension of Section 28 should be permanent.
